Tough Strip Mine Law Nears Vote

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Tough new strip mine legislation that took the House Environment and Natural Resources Committee nearly six months to piece together has been placed on the legislative calendar Thursday for a floor vote.

The bill, amended some 500 times during its committee stay, was recommended for passage by the full committee Oct. 6.

The decision to try a House vote on the controversial legislation this week was made by the Rules Committee Tuesday following almost two weeks of off-and-on discussion.

Some of the bill's provisions are:

—That surety bond minimums be raised to $5,000 and that per-acre bonds be set at $1,000 to insure the completion of reclamation of strip mine areas.

—That reclamation begin within six months after a strip-mining operation opens, with new and higher standards for the grading of spoil banks and high walls to restore the original contour of the land.

—That before a mining operation can begin, a plan must be filed with the chief of the Division of Forestry and Reclamation and approved. The plan must include a statement of scope and type of mining, intended reclamation, and a work timetable.

Critics of the legislation, conceding it stands a good chance of clearing the House, plan to resume their opposition once it is assigned to a Senate committee for study.

They complain the measure contains "unreasonable and costly provisions" that may force small strip miners out of business and will probably force up the cost of coal.

Nearly 80 per cent of all strip-mined coal in Ohio is purchased by public utilities to generate power.

The Rules Committee also slated omnibus election reform legislation, already passed by the Senate, for a House floor vote the same day.

The bill is designed to bring Ohio election law in line with federal and state constitutional requirements.

Coal Walkout In 27th Day

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — The United Mine Workers strike continued into its 27th day today, with no optimism reported from the contract negotiations and more layoffs by railroads.

In Washington, where negotiations between the UMW and the industry are continuing, a source within the industry referred to Gov. Arch Moore Jr.'s statement of last week that the talks were 90 per cent settled and said:

"I'd say 90 per cent is stretching it a bit. If it's not stretching it, you could say that last 10 per cent difference is going to be sticky going."

The Chesapeake & Ohio Railway Tuesday shut down its Hampton Roads coal piers because of the coal shortage and this, coupled with the dockworkers' strike, virtually closed the port of Newport News.

A C&O spokesman said "this will cause the layoff of the complete work force which totals more than 400 people. We have only 700 cars of coal available for any ship that may come into our port."

The spokesman said he did not know and could not guess when the port would reopen for coal shipping.

Several small nonunion mines, closed sometime by pickets sympathetic to the UMW strike, began to resume operations Tuesday in Eastern Ohio and Eastern Kentucky.

Sources in Pike County, Ky., indicated Eastern Kentucky miners stopped their picketing of non-union mines in hopes that a new union contract will soon settle the strike.

"They seemed sure they'll be going back soon and just didn't want to cause more hard feelings," one source said.

In West Virginia and Virginia, meanwhile, more non-union operations were closed by roving bands of pickets.

The Norfolk & Western Railway reported Tuesday that only 38 of the mines it serves in Virginia and southern West Virginia were working—17 less than worked the day before.

The N&W said it has lost about $23 million in revenue since the strike began and has furloughed about 5,000 workers.

School Bus Fuel Lines Reported Cut

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—The entire 19-bus fleet of nearby Franklin High School was expected to be back in operation today after being out of service Tuesday with cut fuel lines.

Repairs were made Tuesday. Parents had to drive their children to school. School officials said about 1,200 of the 5,500 students missed classes because they had no transportation.

Congress Eyes Phase 2 Plan For Economy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress, apparently in a mood to approve President Nixon's Phase 2 economic legislation without drastic change, goes to work on it today.

Secretary of the Treasury John B. Connally is the administration's leadoff witness before the House Banking Committee.

The administration is asking that the President's economic control powers be broadened and extended a full year beyond the present expiration date, next April 30.

The extension may be the most controversial proposal. Some members favor keeping the present expiration date, or setting another, short of a year, so that Congress will have a chance to intervene if it disapproves of the course Phase 2 may take.

Rep. Henry S. Reuss, D-Wis., also has said he will propose an amendment requiring Senate confirmation of the President's appointees to the Wage Board and Price Commission that will call the tune for Phase 2.

And, there may be an effort to strengthen the section of the administration bill dealing with interest controls.

Nixon is asking standby authority to control interest and dividends, statutory recognition of the supervisory boards, stiffer penalties for violations and establishment of a temporary court of appeals to handle wage-price cases.

Congress also is being asked to ratify actions already taken by Nixon in connection with the temporary freeze in Phase I. These include orders and regulations by the Cost of Living Council.

The Banking Committee has set a goal of the first week in November to conclude its hearings and plans, if possible, to have a bill ready for House consideration the following week, still ahead of the Nov. 13 expiration of the temporary freeze.

Stans Warns Of Ecological Overkill

HOUSTON (AP)—Commerce Secretary Maurice Stans has told the 40th international conference of the Financial Executives Institute here that too much attention to environmental issues can hurt America.

"We cannot have single track minds in which the environmental issues overrides everything," he said Tuesday.

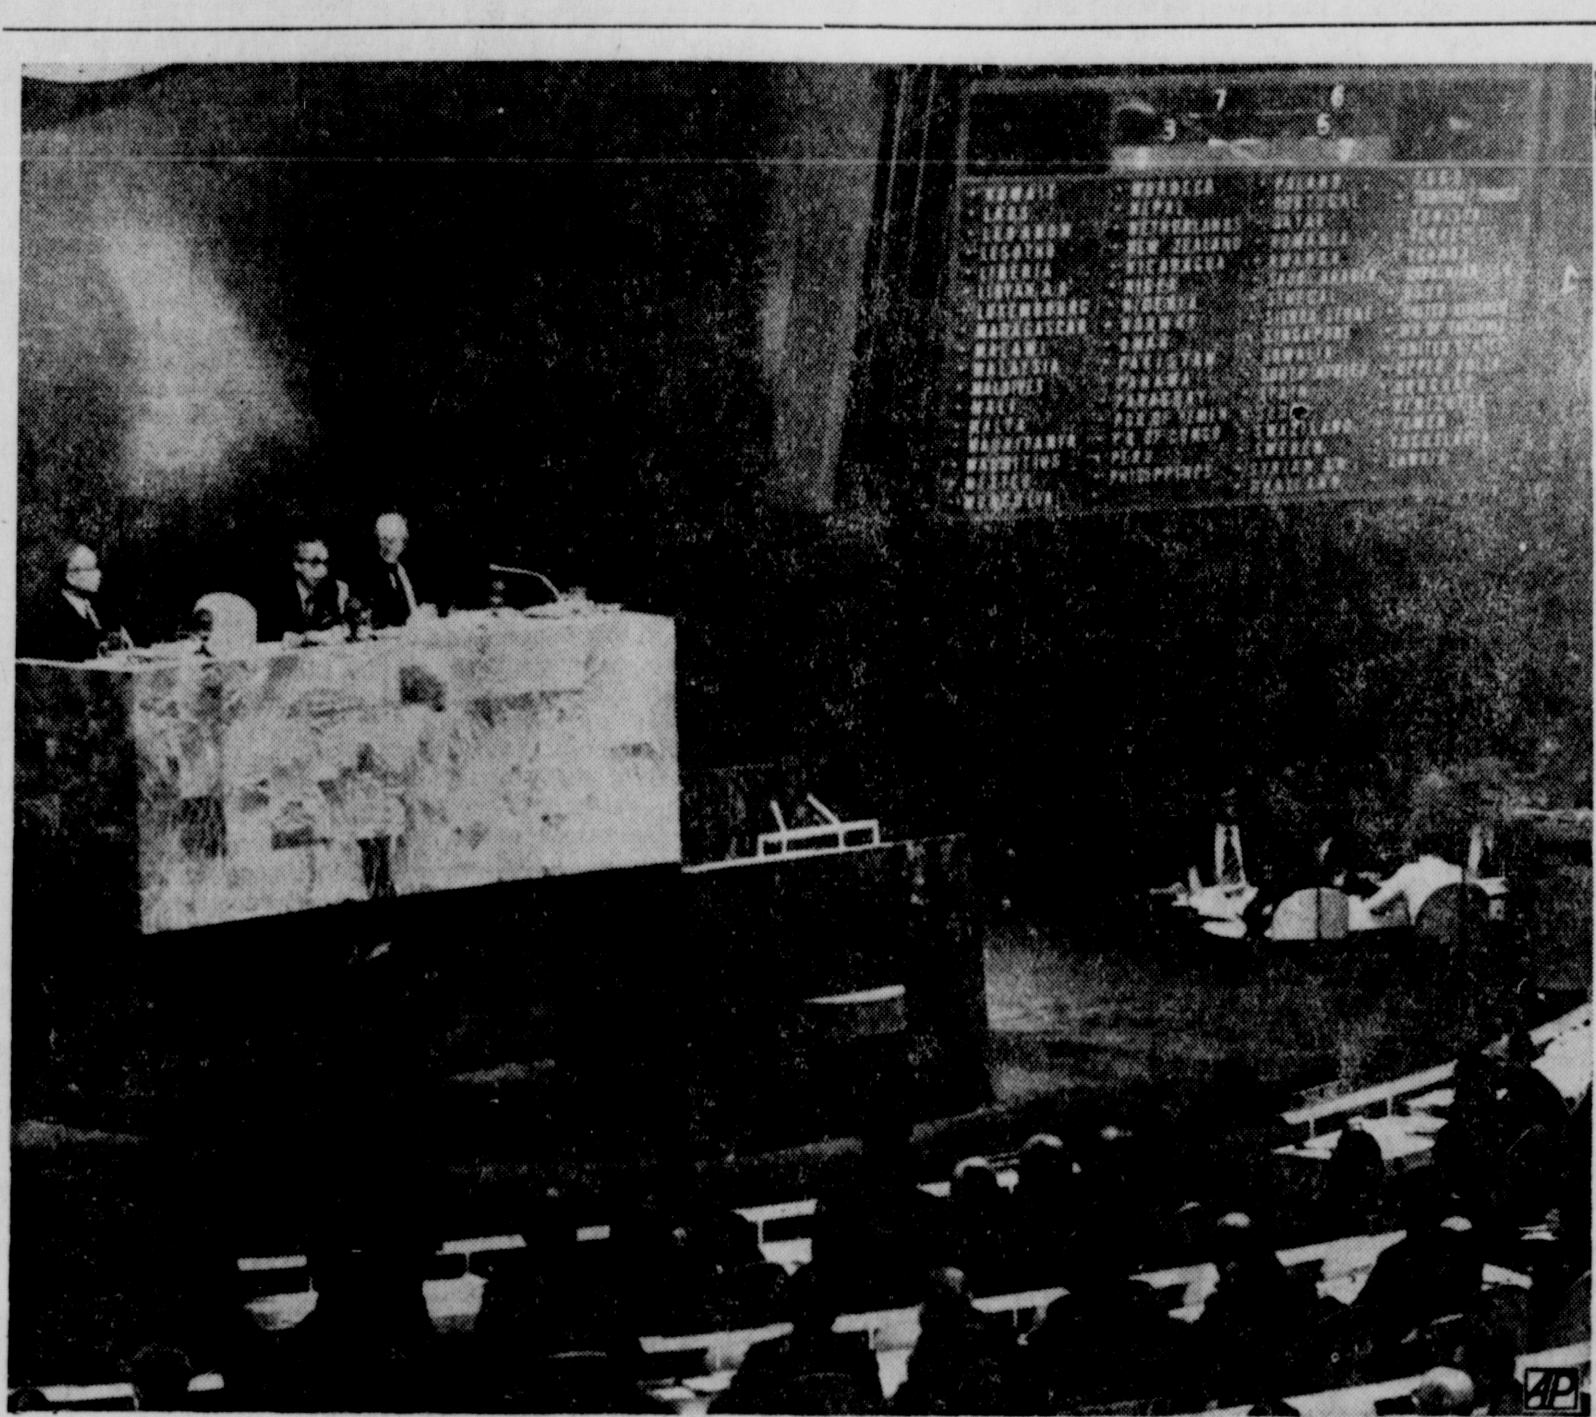

"If we yield unquestionably to every popular demand, if we settle for quick immediate solutions to one set of problems, we can very quickly catapult ourselves into others that are much more serious. There is evidence that this is happening — and it could lead to an environmental backlash," Stans said.

Industry has been indiscriminately accused by some of ignoring the pollution problems of our times and being responsible for most of them, Stans said.

"The charge is dead wrong and it is unfair," he said. "Industry of course, must bear a share of the blame. But the fact recognized by too few people is that many of the worst polluters are outside of industry—municipalities, other governments, agriculture and the public itself. Witness the fact that hundreds, perhaps thousands, of American communities pour millions of tons of untreated sewage into waters every day."

Stans said none of the major environmental problems can be resolved instantly. They are too complex and call for long-range programs and careful consideration of priorities and financing.

Anger At Taiwan Expulsion Grows

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United Nations' decision to expel Nationalist China has sparked a round of angry Senate denunciations and added controversy to the foreign aid bill.

Before anyone could even try to amend the $3.2 billion authorization measure, Sen. William Saxbe, R-Ohio, was on his feet Tuesday to urge it be sent back to the Foreign Relations Committee—so it could be saved.

"If we don't send it back to committee I think we're going to defeat it," Saxbe said.

But Senate leaders said a postponement in considering the aid measure might delay congressional adjournment, now scheduled between Nov. 15 and Dec. 1. They also said it may delay other important legislation.

While the debate raged on the Senate floor, Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, came up the Senate Press Gallery to support the Saxbe move.

"It's a very poor way to legislate—to begin this debate the day after the U.N. vote," Church said. "The mood of the Senate is hot-tempered and irrational. Senators have been known to do silly things in the past and who knows what silly thing might be adopted now."

But Saxbe had to abandon his effort; and the aid bill is now ready to receive amendments. An amendment already inserted by the Foreign Relations Committee calls for a withdrawal of troops from Indochina in six months.

As senators rushed to get on record on the U.N.'s Monday night vote, these main threads of argument developed:

—Conservative senators from both parties called for reduction in U.S. financial support of the United Nations with Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., demanding U.S. withdrawal.

Sen. James L. Buckley, Con-R-N.Y., said he has asked his staff to prepare legislation "calling for a major reduction in U.S. support, and amendment."

Tito Arrives In Washington For Talks On Middle East

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Tito of Yugoslavia arrives here today to begin a six-day state visit that will include talks with President Nixon and top administration officials.

The aging European Communist leader spent Tuesday night under tight security in Gander, Newfoundland, during a brief stopover on his trip from Belgrade.

U.S. officials, who begin their talks with Tito Thursday, are expected to ask for his help in smoothing relations in the Middle East, where he long has sided with the Arab nations.

U.S. Secretary of State William P. Rogers, in an interview last week for Belgrade television, in effect asked Tito for assistance in efforts to reopen the Suez Canal.

Tito, who recently met with President Anwar Sadat of Egypt and Soviet party chief Leonid Brezhnev, probably will explore the Rogers proposal during his discussions here.

Despite his differences with the United States on the Middle East, Indochina and other questions, Tito has enjoyed a special relationship with the West ever since he defied Stalin and was ousted from the Moscow

Kissinger Tells Nixon About Trip

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon summoned Dr. Henry A. Kissinger to a White House breakfast today to discuss details of the Chief Executive's upcoming meeting with top leaders of Communist China.

Kissinger returned Wednesday to Washington after extending his stay in Peking for two days. The presidential advisor only smiled and waved to reporters after his plane landed at Andrews Air Force Base in nearby Maryland following a 15-hour flight from Peking.

White House Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said Kissinger extended his stay to "finalize preparations" for the Nixon journey. Asked if the extension resulted because of a hitch in "We have no indication that there was a hitch. I think they made good progress."

Roundtown

OCTOBER'S Saturdays have been wet ones in Circleville. According to The Herald's weather summaries, Roundtown has been drenched with 1.17 inches of rain on three successive Saturdays — and only 1.41 inches total for the month.

The first Saturday in the month, October 2, was fair and hot. But on Oct. 9, the first rain of the month fell on Circleville streets — .25 inches on an otherwise hot day. Oct. 16 brought .41 inches of precipitation, even though weather was warm and rain clouds changed to clear skies by mid-afternoon. But the worst day was last Saturday.

Packed between a drizzly Pumpkin Show Friday and a wet clean-up Sunday, Oct. 23 brought .41 inches of rain to Circleville, cloudy skies, and a cold, miserable finale to the 65th annual show.

BERGER Hospital administrator, John Reid, is back to work this morning. Reid collapsed Oct. 12 at a luncheon meeting with a committee from the medical staff at the hospital. He was recovering at University Hospital, Columbus, after receiving initial treatment at Berger Hospital.

'Last Chance' Plan Studied By Assembly

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — There will be no further compromise on tax and budget legislation facing the 109th General Assembly, the Gilligan administration has declared.

In a news release late Tuesday, state Budget Director Jay Tepper, speaking for the administration, put Republican leadership on stern notice: "It is up to you now to either supply the rest of the votes needed to pass the compromise (income tax) measure or provide enough votes on your own to pass some other package."

"The Democrats have already compromised to the tune of a billion dollars from the original administration proposal," Tepper said. "We can compromise no more."

Gov. John Gilligan in March asked the General Assembly to approve a graduated, state tax on personal and corporate earnings and record new state spending of $2.1 billion.

In the seven ensuing months, the governor's income tax proposal has given way first to a miniaturized version passed by the House, then to a Senate-preferred sales tax boost. Proposed new spending has shrunk to $900 million for the two years, part of an $8.1 billion budget agreed to by the conference committee.

Tepper's assessment of the stymied tax issue that forced the state onto temporary tax and spending programs since the biennium began July 1 is:

"There is nothing further we can do. We do not have a ma-

Stockade Outbreak Quelled

FT. GORDON, Ga. (AP) — Military Police using tear gas broke up a demonstration in which stockade inmates at this Army base burned an empty barracks. Nine inmates were reported injured.

Lt. Col. Richard H. Lamb, the base public information officer, said the disturbance began as a sympathy demonstration for Pvt. Jesse Simmons of Memphis, Tenn., who had been denied home parole. Lamb gave no reason for Simmons' request.

During the disturbance the inmates hurled rocks at the MPs and burned a wooden barracks to the ground, Lamb said. He placed the loss at $30,000.

The injured inmates suffered minor cuts and bruises during the skirmish with MPs, Lamb added. They were treated at the base hospital.

The colonel also denied reports of gunfire. "I checked this very carefully, and I can find no record of any shots being fired," he said.

Another 200 prisoners in the stockade did not take part in the trouble. The 100 who did were being temporarily housed in other buildings in the stockade complex.

Ohio Jobless Rate Declines

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's rate of unemployment dropped from 5.5 per cent of the civilian labor force to 4.8 per cent in September, the Ohio Bureau of Employment Services reported today.

The bureau said the unemployment shrank seasonally from 248,000 in August to 217,000 in September. Total employment at 4,228,000 was 3 per cent above August.

The advance in employment was greatest among non-agricultural wage and salary jobs — up .9 per cent, to 3,849,000. Greatest gains were attributable to reopening of public and private schools and stepped-up production of new model automobiles and parts.

National Food Bank Becomes Hot Potato

WASHINGTON (AP) — A hot political dispute may emerge on Capitol Hill over a proposed national food bank for building reserves of important grains.

While supporters and opponents of the food bank both say publicly there should be no partisan approach to the issue, they agree privately it could become a political issue.

Some Democrats hope to force the President's hand on an issue of crucial concern to voters in the farm belt. Republican opponents of the proposal call it "an ineffective and wasteful gesture that will bring more mischief than relief both to farmers and to the general public."

Under the legislation, the secretary of agriculture would set up, maintain and dispose of reserves of grain sorghums, corn, barley, oats and wheat. He would buy, through the Commodity Credit Corporation, up to 300 million bushels of wheat and 25 million tons of feed grains—paying not more than the previous five-year average price received by farmers.

The reserve would be offered for sale above average farm prices. A reserve could be retained on declaration of emergency by the President or a resolution by Congress. The reserves could be used to ease distress at a disaster area. They also could be rotated to prevent stocks from damage or spoilage.

"The reserve would give strength, continuity, and resultant stability to an erratic market swollen by domestic overproduction, and facing difficult foreign trade circumstances not the least of which has been a U.S. dock strike of mammoth proportions," said the committee majority report to the House.

The Agriculture Department estimated it would cost about $1.45 billion for wheat and grain purchases and $215 million a year for storage based on this year's figures only.

Nine committee Republicans who voted against the bill described it as "adverse to the farmer's interest and expensively futile for the public."

They said: "It fails to recognize the fact that there is no shortage of grain now or in the foreseeable future. It ignores sources of grain both at home and overseas that would be available. In brief, it simply adds another price depressant to farmers' market price picture."

Westfall Released As Party In Suit

An opinion issued by Judge William Ammer in an injury suit on the county court docket has released the Westfall School District as a defendant.

The school district was named a co-defendant in an action filed in March by Michael Clark, Williamsport. Clark filed the suit seeking damages from an accident on the grounds of Williamsport school in 1958.

Remaining defendant in the action is J. Norman Leist, driver of the bus which injured the youth.

In his statement, Judge Ammer noted that other court actions have established the right of immunity granted to a school board under the doctrine of governmental immunity.

Navy Changes In Vietnam Boost Pullout Speculation

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Navy has nearly completed its Vietnamization program and has only 24 river craft, four bases and 14 radar stations still to be turned over to the South Vietnamese, official sources said today.

The disclosure heightened speculation that President Nixon, in his mid-November announcement on further U.S. disengagement from the war, will set a completion date for the U.S. troop withdrawal.

Present plans call for the Navy to complete its Vietnamization program by next July, but informed sources said U.S. advisers would be needed for a long time in electronics, radar, ship repair, maintenance and logistics.

The U.S. Navy will announce on Friday that a Vietnamese officer will take command of one of its major bases in South Vietnam, at Nha Be, 10 miles south of Saigon. The U.S. commander there will become an adviser to the South Vietnamese commander, and later the base will be given officially to the Vietnamese.

Since 1968, the U.S. Navy has turned over 939 ships, boats and other craft to the South Vietnamese navy. It also has given the Vietnamese 29 bases and four radar stations.

U.S. naval forces operating in South Vietnam have been reduced from a peak strength of 35,000 to 9,700 men.

The Vietnamese navy now numbers about 40,000 men.

On the battlefields of Indochina, the major action reported was the destruction of the Spear Dek bridge 30 miles northeast of the Cambodian capital of Phnom Penh.

Viet Cong frogmen blew up the bridge with floating charges for the second time in a year cutting the supply line to more than 20,000 Cambodian troops on the northeastern front.

In South Vietnam, only small contracts were reported. The U.S. Command said a small Army observation plane was shot down in the central highlands near the Laotian border, and the two American crewmen were wounded.

As the cleanup after Typhoon Hester continued in the northern provinces, Red China's New China News Agency reported that local Viet Cong organizations were taking "urgent measures" to overcome the aftermath of the storm.

A Chinese broadcast said these groups held a conference in South Vietnam and allocated 100 million piasters for typhoon relief.

Five Cases Are Heard

Samuel Ray Butz, a former Ohio resident who was charged with issuing forged payroll checks in 1970, was sentenced to 1-20 years in the Ohio Penitentiary today.

Butz had entered a plea of guilty to the charge last week, but sentencing was withheld pending completion of an investigation of the man's life.

Judge Ammer, in pronouncing sentence, agreed to send a recommendation for parole to the prison board requesting consideration for an early release.

Other cases were heard including that of Richard Lillibridge. Lillibridge was charged with assault on a male under the age of 16 and entered a guilty plea. He was ordered to Lima State Hospital for a 60-day observation period.

Merle P. Arnold, cited for publishing a forged check to Pickaway County Pony Sales Inc., asked a continuance in his case. He is presently jailed under $3,000 bond.

A continuance was requested for John Winston Johnson who is being held for stealing copper wire from the telephone company.

A 1-7 year prison term was given to Billy Sexton, who was arrested for obtaining possession of tires by the unauthorized use of a credit card. He appeared on a bill of information, entering a guilty plea and waiving a grand jury hearing of the case.

Jumbo Jet Still In Cuba; Cuban Plane Still In U.S.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
While 236 hijacked Americans spent their second night at a hotel in Havana, a planeload of Cubans who refused to leave New Orleans enjoyed a night of American hospitality.

The tale of the Americans who couldn't go home and the Cubans who wouldn't started Monday night when a gunman hijacked an American Airlines 747 jumbo jet en route from New York to San Juan, P.R.

It carried a crew of 15 and listed three sky marshals and an off-duty FBI agent among its passengers.

The 747 put down at Havana's Jose Marti Airport at 9:58 p.m. Monday and was sitting there Tuesday noon when Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin arrived for a "friendship visit" to the Communist controlled island.

The cheers of the Cuban throng that met Kosygin had hardly died down in Havana when a Soviet-built twin-engine prop jet landed at New Orleans after a flight from Cuba.

That plane carried a crew of three and 19 passengers who said they had flown to New Orleans to attend an international sugar cane convention—even though the United States had denied their request for visas.

The pilot, Ray Morina, was ordered by the U.S. State Department to leave. But he refused to do so without orders from his own government.

After spending nine hours locked behind customs office doors, the Cuban delegation was led to an airport hotel to spend the night.

On the way to the hotel, Francis Metre of the Cuban delegation said the group had a right to attend "because Cuba is the largest sugar-producing country in the world. The conference would not be an international one without our group."

Federal Aviation Administration officials in Miami, meanwhile, said they were unable to learn from Cuba when the 747 would be allowed to leave.

"After that Kosygin celebration dies down, they might get around to releasing it. They only have one runway, you know," an FAA spokesman said.

jury. We cannot, by ourselves, provide all of the votes needed to pass any proposal.

The administration and Democratic legislators. Tepper said, "will now wait for the Republican leadership to provide enough votes for a permanent two-year budget, and thus end the prolonged deadlock over taxes."

The latest option fashioned by the administration, appropriately dubbed the "Last Chance" plan, has the backing of 11 Democrats in the Senate, and between 35-40 in the House. Seventeen votes are needed to pass legislation in the upper chamber. The House requires 50 votes.

The plan, itself, varies only slightly from the so-called "Multi-constraint" package publicly discussed in recent weeks. Still provided are:

—A graduated tax of from 5 to 4 per cent on personal income, a 4 per cent tax on businesses earning $15,000 or less a year, and a 7½ per cent tax on firms earning more.

—Personal exemptions in $500 increments up to $3,000.

—New cigarette and cigar taxes.

—Some property tax relief, with a 3 per cent across-the-board cutback promised for the first year and a 7 per cent cut the second.

The administration's "Last Chance" has modified the measure, providing for:

—A severance tax on companies extracting minerals from Ohio soil based on weight instead of value as originally suggested.

—Another $30 million over two years in tax relief.

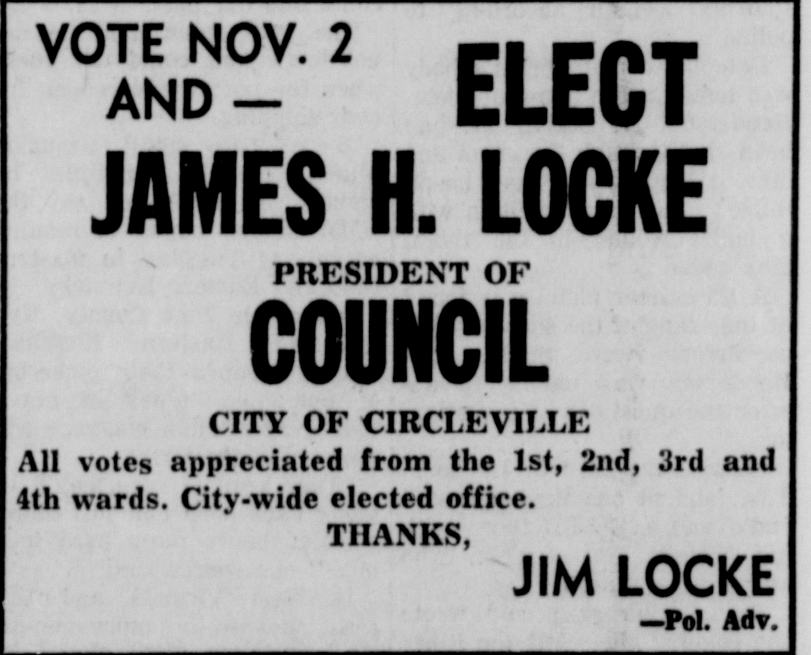

Court Opinion Sets Land Value

A settlement for highway easements along Route 56 at 159 has been made with compensation for the land exceeding $12,000. An opinion defining the decision was filed Tuesday in court.

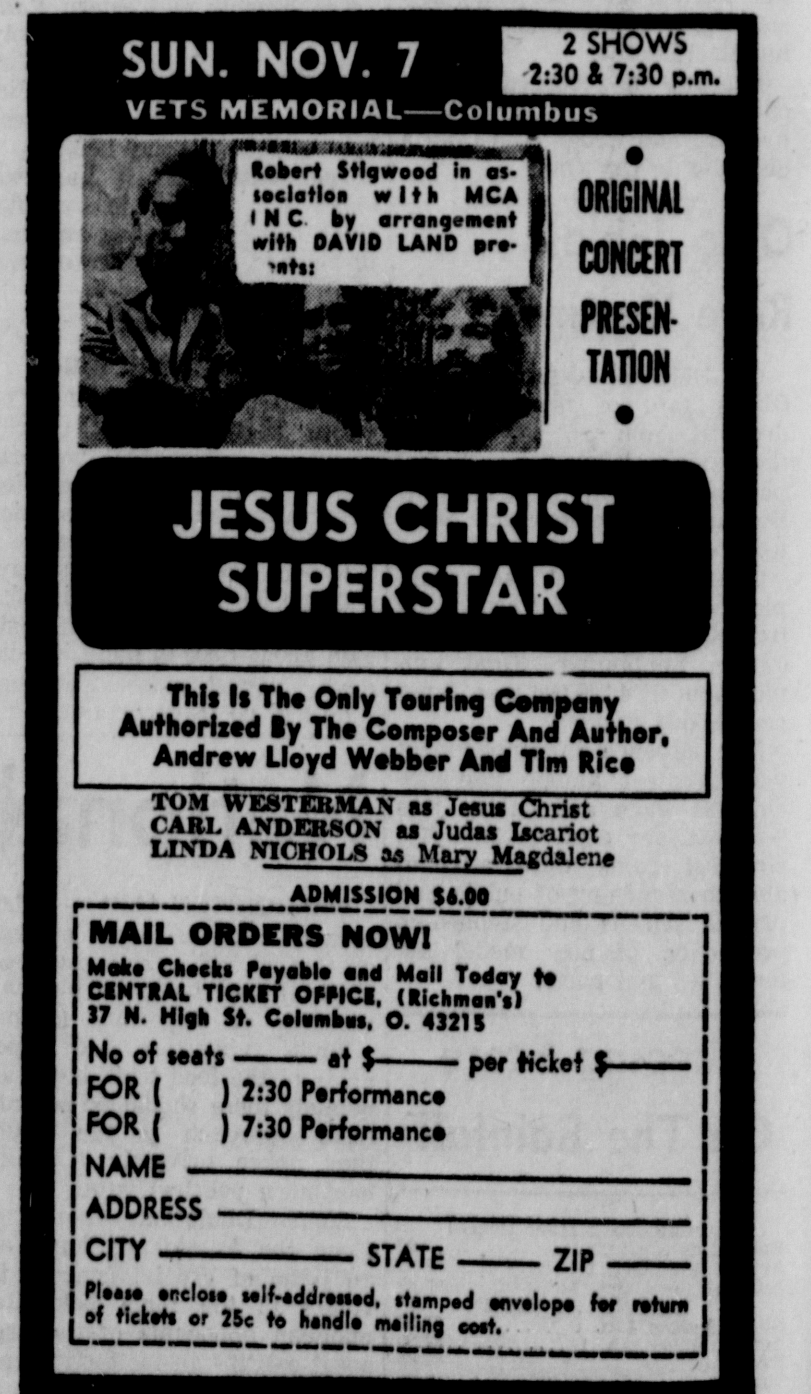

In agreement with the Director of Ohio Highways, a figure of $10,125 was set at adequate compensation for perpetual easement for the highway on the property of C. Morris Jr. in Saltcreek Twp. The figure also includes right of way for a temporary detour through Morris' lands while highway construction is underway.

To property jointly owned by Harriet Morris, Route 4 and Ruth Macklin, Route 1, the court found a settlement of $2,075 adequate reimbursement for land easement for the new highway remodeling and temporary detour during the construction.

What job is twice as dangerous as working in a steel mill, and injures nearly 75,000 workers each year seriously enough to require medical attention? Would you believe teaching school?

A growing number of the nation's crimes, ranging from simple vandalism to murder, now occur on school property. Much of this crime is concentrated in the large cities, but schools everywhere are subject to growing incidences of crime.

Nationally, school crimes in most categories doubled between 1964 and 1968. During that same period assaults on teachers increased by 7,100 percent, robberies by 306 percent and homicides by 73 percent, according to a 1970 report by a Senate subcommittee on juvenile delinquency.

Much school construction and modification to school property today consist not of educational improvements, but fortifying the buildings against crime. Electronic alarm systems are among the more popular additions, but others range through fences and night lights to replacing glass windows with unbreakable materials. Also police dogs and officers to patrol the grounds, closed circuit television cameras in every room, police posing as students and tape recorders for teachers to record threats.

It sounds like something out of a bad dream. It is, but it also is very real. When a city like Los Angeles must increase its school security guards from 15 in 1965 to 102 today, and New York its force from 170 in 1970 to 382 this year, the report card on education begins to read like a police report.

Highway Drama

A 30-minute motion picture produced by the Highway Safety Foundation will win no honors for beauty or plot. It may make a number of those who view it sick to their stomachs. It is not an over-dramatization and stars everyday people, not actors.

The story it tells is one of the most horrible compiled by civilization, and the movie shows the subject exactly as it is. The subject is highway accidents, and the filming was done on the spot of numerous accidents over the last 10 years by the foundation's accident investigation teams.

"Decade of Highway Death" focuses on some 50 accidents and the injured, dying and dead produced by them. Stark though it is, the film is not half as gruesome as the picture it partially presents.

The total picture includes 50,000 dead each year, 2.5 million injured and property damage approaching $17 billion. If making a few persons sick watching a small synopsis of this story on the screen does any good, the film ought to receive wide showing.

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

I have had two attacks of severe reaction to penicillin. I have been warned to avoid using it.

My concern is that our newborn infant might have inherited this sensitivity. Is there any way to test him before its use, should penicillin be necessary?

Mrs. P. N., Md.
Dear Mrs. N.: The chances are very slight that your child will necessarily inherit a hypersensitivity to penicillin. Yet it should be brought to the attention of the baby's doctor. There are now many other excellent antibiotics that are as effective as penicillin and can be used for most ordinary infections.

Many skin tests have been devised to determine unusual sensitivity to penicillin. A new one is in use at the Johns Hopkins School of Medicine by Dr. N. F. Adkinson. Similar tests are available to patients all over the country, by doctors and allergy specialists.

Is there a vaccine against venereal disease?

Mr. B. N., Texas
Dear Mr. N.: Unfortunately, no. The massive epidemic of both gonorrhea and syphilis must yet be controlled by intensive education.

The creation of a vaccine for both diseases is occupying the scientific attention of researchers all over the world.

We have been told that you once wrote an article about a drug that is used for the control of bed-wetting in young children.

Can you tell me more about this method of curing bed-wetting? Is it safe?

Mrs. E. B., S.C.
Dear Mrs. B.: Persistent bed-wetting is a complex problem that needs psychological guidance in addition to the advantageous drug treatment now available.

The problem should be dealt with early to avoid the embarrassment and distress, especially of children who are in the early school ages.

The drug I referred to is imipramine. It is sold under a different trade name, and should be used only under the specific direction of a doctor.

The drug apparently works by changing the sleep patterns during the night. It has been extremely successful in many cases where other methods have failed.

Dr. G. I. Martin of the Albert Einstein College of Medicine in New York recently reported excellent results in a large series of children whose ages ranged from 5 to 15 years.

It is a safe drug when prescribed and controlled by the physician, and certainly deserves a trial in cases of uncontrolled and persistent bed-wetting.

Meeting Soviet Bluffs

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

NORFOLK, Va. — It was a most unusual junket. We set out from Norfolk at the invitation of Vice Admiral H. G. Rickover on the ballistic missile nuclear submarine, the USS George Washington Carver. The day was overcast, there was a stinging mist, just verging on rain, as we stood on the bridge and watched the box dip into the wave with a rolling motion. The George Washington Carver was in between careers; it had been carrying Polaris missiles since its shakedown cruise in 1966, and now is in line for conversion to the superior Poseidon missile. We had been promised an inspection, a deep sea dive and cruise under the surface, with the understanding that nothing was to be written about the technical features of the ship without clearance from the Navy.

For a landlubber who wanted to learn something about the 41 nuclear-powered strategic missile submarines that (to adapt to modern use a phrase from Admiral Mahan's famous classic on seapower) stand between the Soviet Communists and the domination of the world, the trip was a profound experience.

The nuclear submarine (and this goes for any reactor-powered undersea ballistic missile craft, including the Russian) combines all that is most advanced in atomic and electronic science. The fresh-faced boys who handle the complicated equipment of the George Washington Carver are everything that our younger generation of hippies is not. Though its armament is awe-inspiring, the strategic missile vessel that keeps the sea in lonely vigil is actually bent on an errand of mercy, for it constitutes the deterrent power that is our best insurance against atomic holocaust. The boys are there to guarantee us against World War III.

The AP and UP reporters who were avid for details expressed their disappointment whenever a question brought forth the response that the answer was "classified." For myself as a columnist, I could fall back on the satisfaction that I was there in part to make a philosophical judgment. However, after reading some of Admiral Rickover's testimony before Congressional committees, whatever final satisfaction I feel comes under the heading of cold comfort.

Assuming that our 41 ballistic-missile submarines are capable of guaranteeing the U.S. an atomic stalemate, it would naturally follow that future wars, including those at sea, will be fought with conventional explosives. So what are we doing to keep our conventional Navy, including nuclear-powered ships that are built to fire conventional weapons, up to snuff? The Russians, to quote David Fairhall, a British authority who is defense correspondent for The Guardian, have an ocean fleet that "is big, young and fast." Soviet improvisers were the first to introduce the cruise missile into the submarine fleet, first bolting it onto anything that could take to sea, then designing a new class of ship from scratch. With their bolting it onto anything that could take to sea, then designing a new class of ship from scratch, the Soviets are fearfully provided to wage war in the Middle East.

Admiral Rickover, in his testimony before the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy, spoke of the "failure on our part to provide naval force which can stand up to the best naval forces the Soviets develop." He added that this failure "could lead to our having to give in on all issues for which we are not willing to go to nuclear war."

It is within the context of an ability to meet Soviet bluffs that we need the nuclear-powered aircraft carriers and the fast nuclear frigates with guided missile capacity that Rickover praised in answering the questioning of Senator Henry Jackson. Nuclear propulsion, which is something that is quite distinct from nuclear armaments, would enable our Navy to go anywhere to counter the bluffs of Muscovite diplomacy.

Thus my meditations while lying in a bunk aboard the George Washington Carver, Rickover, as the prophet of the ballistic-missile submarine, has given us the deterrent power to make atomic warfare a most unlikely thing. What we now need is a corresponding power to make a conventional sea war with the Soviets just as unthinkable as atomic holocaust.

Betts Threatens To Quit Post Over Remapping

UCYRUS, Ohio (AP)—Rep. Jackson E. Betts, R-Ohio, had little comment Tuesday on an 8th District Republican leaders meeting Monday when congressional redistricting was the chief topic.

One Republican source said Betts threatened to quit if his district is carved up when Ohio loses a congressional seat next year.

"Far as the meeting is concerned, I'm not going to comment," Betts said from his home in Findlay. "I have talked about quitting for years and if and when a decision is made, there will be a news release for everyone."

Of the meeting, Betts said, "We talked about everything. That's all I want to say about it."

Business Man Seeks Wife Through Ad
MANILA (AP) — A. G. Gray knows the kind of woman he wants for, a bride down there in New South Wales, Australia. All Manila knows too.

A two-column, three-color advertisement in the Manila Chronicle asked for a wife for Gray, who was identified as a widower and a businessman, and a mother for his 14-year-old daughter.

Applicants must be loyal, home-loving, 25 to 30 years old, fairly attractive, willing to travel, like gardening and children, said the ad.

Native Ohio home dressed meats were offered at U. S. Stores in Roundtown. A pound of sugar cured bacon sold for 17 cents, beef steak, 18 cents a pound and fresh skinned hams, only 15 cents a pound.

Mention was made that the Wolfe grocery, on the corner of Mound and Washington Sts. was at one time a Dutch Reformed Church.

Figures released from the 1930 census revealed that Germans constituted the leading foreign-born population in Pickaway County, nearly half of the 1,526 located here. Sesco Carper, 18, confessed to Fairfield County police that he had killed his father during an argument. Harvey Carper, a native of Whisler, had been thought murdered by fellow bootleggers.

With the death Oct. 18 of Thomas Edison, Roundtown recalled when the great inventor's colleague began the Circleville Edison Electrical Illuminating Co. in 1884, Circleville was the second town in Ohio to have a light plant (Middletown was first) and had the first street lights in the United States. The site of the original plant was in the alley at the rear of the Harden Stevenson garage.

On the day of Edison's funeral, Roundtown joined the rest of the nation and turned all lights in Circleville off for one minute at 10 p.m.

Mrs. Helen Bartholomew, soprano, and Franklin Price, tenor, both of Circleville, competed in the state finals of the National Radio Audition broadcast over WAIU in Columbus.

Councilman W. F. Baker instigated an ordinance in city council declaring it unlawful to have on any sidewalk in the city limits any sign or symbol for advertising purposes or for any commercial enterprise, art, profession or industry. The ordinance also banned fish boxes, oyster crates, fruit boxes, baskets of fruit or any other receptacle for the display of any merchandise, candy machines confectionery booth or showcase on the city streets.

Will Anderson of near Clarksburg proved himself the best corn husker in the county in a contest held at the Nelson Baker farm. Anderson husked 11 bushels and 3 pounds in an hour to be the winner followed by Dorsey Bumgarner, 7 bushels 67½ pounds; George Eitel, 7 bushels, 42½ pounds; Forest Rosebaum, 7 bushels 21½ pounds and Alfred Van Fossen, 5 bushels, 11½ pounds. Those five were the only competitors.

According To Boyle

By HAL BOYLE

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — If you think all it takes to marry off a daughter is money, you're wrong.

You also need a groom, and he's got to be at the wedding—which is where I ran into problems.

To get the whole happy expensive mess into proper focus we turn back to last year after my miss and her fella, senior classmates at Temple University, got engaged and set the date.

He had just joined the Army Reserves and was awaiting call-up for five months of active duty, hoping to time it to make the wedding, finish some courses for a B.A. degree and start law school.

Weeks passed, then months, but no Army orders.

Time was critical. Too late an Army reporting date would mean my prospective son-in-law would miss classes and the wedding date.

"You know people," my worried wife said. "Call the Army, call your senator, call anybody."

I already had, zeroing in on the Defense Department and its military red tape through Pennsylvania's two U.S. senators, Hugh Scott and Richard Schweiker. After all, the young man wasn't trying to get out of the Army. He was trying to get in and having no luck.

My wife was getting frantic, and so was my daughter. The caterer, the florist, the photographer and the orchestra leader also might have been concerned if they knew the dilemma and how it might cut them out of a big payoff in a cancellation or elopement.

About this time a year ago, President Nixon was on the election trail and planning a quick Pennsylvania stopover at Lancaster to plug a candidate for governor who never made it. I took the missus along on the assignment hoping to get her mind off a wedding still seven months away.

Good thinking? Well . . . not exactly the way it was originally figured. Women just won't listen.

When the President, after his speech, moved past newsmen on the way to the White House helicopter, my wife stuck out a hand to say hello, and Nixon grabbed it. She wouldn't let go.

"Mr. President, can you help a young man get called to active duty in the Army?" she asked—a determined mother, cool, calm and collected.

That demolished me, usually cool, calm and collected.

"Who is this young man?" Nixon asked.

"The man my daughter is going to marry," which intrigued the President even more and increased my embarrassment as he pursued the topic.

My wife explained the Army delay and finalized her concern with a touch of diplomacy: "You know how it is with daughters."

Nodding (no kidding) the President suggested she write to his military aide, which she did. And I kept prodding my senators, who kept prodding the Pentagon, and the orders finally came—on time. And nobody took any credit because I'm certain the Army did it all by itself.

So now you think everyone lived happily ever after? Not quite.

First, the Army lost the young man's travel orders. Then he had to sweat out a two-week leave scheduled in the middle of his training, which he didn't want, and finally was able to stay on duty.

Finally he finished training and came home a week before he had to answer wedding bells.

Okay? Not okay. My daughter cried because the Army cut her guy's hair too short.

"Sorry," I said, "the President can't do a thing about it."

Views On TV-Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Those new rules which returned a half hour of prime time nightly to individual television stations for local programming just aren't working out as expected.

Although network production line entertainment isn't often tops, by and large it is superior to the assortment of low budget, syndicated programs now filling the time spots.

The new Federal Communications Commission rules were designed in part to stimulate local programming. Since reruns of old network shows are forbidden and most stations can't afford elaborate productions, the rules have stimulated production by independent entrepreneurs. Their product is what is being seen, for the most part, between 7:30 and 8 on week nights.

The show business journal, Variety, estimates on the basis of a survey that there has been a drop of 7 per cent in viewers during the early evening time period.

Among the best efforts appearing around the country is "Story Theatre," which is witty and specializes in retelling old fairy tales in contemporary and droll idiom. And there also is "The David Frost Revue," a show slightly reminiscent of "That Was The Week That Was."

Since the early time period has a large "family audience"—in trade jargon that means lots of children and grandparents—many of the shows are specially aimed at two ends of the viewer spectrum. There is "Circus," simply a half hour of big tent acts, and "Rollin' On The River," a well produced rock and country music show. "Stand Up And Cheer," a jolly, patriotic musical outing, reaches out for the older viewer. "The Gold-diggers" is a bouncy musical show spun off Dean Martin's network hour onto the syndication circuit.

Gas Company Offers 'Talks'

Technological breakthroughs that may solve many of the major problems our country is facing today as a result of the population explosion will be explored in a new program available, upon request, through Columbia Gas of Ohio, Inc.

D. H. Murray, manager for the gas company in the Circleville area, said the program, entitled "Partners in Progress" will outline some of the ways science and industry are attacking such problems as environmental pollution, energy supply, mass education and food shortages and assuring a better way of life for all people in the years ahead.

The talk is one of five programs that can be scheduled, free of charge, by schools, civic and social groups and church organizations in the Circleville area, he said.

These programs cover a wide variety of subjects ranging from fashions and the space program to scenic wonders of Ohio and are presented either by Miss Joy Washburn or Miss Linda Kurtz, both of Columbus and both representatives of the gas company's Public Relations Department.

A brochure listing all of the talks, plus a variety of films that are available through the gas company, can be obtained by contacting your local gas company office.

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — The anthracite coal industry, a historic and already endangered part of the American scene, is being nudged to the brink of extinction by federal mine laws.

A majority of small, deep-mine operators in the state are reported going out of business because of the 1969 Mine Health and Safety Act.

"They just cannot comply with a law written mainly for the bituminous coal industry," said Mazie Gutshall, a special consultant to the U.S. Bureau of Mines and a former deputy mines secretary for Pennsylvania. "I've heard that approximately two-thirds of the industry has closed or is on the verge of closing deep mines."

USE THE CLASSIFIEDS

The Ashville-Harrison Parent-Teacher Association Halloween Carnival Committee met Oct. 25 to finalize plans for the annual event.

The carnival, which also features a Jitney supper, has been held for many years to treat the students of Ashville Elementary school to lots of surprises, games and as an extra activity for their Halloween fun.

The Carnival will be held Saturday, with the supper at 5 p.m. and the games at 6:30. This year, the committee under the direction of Frans Crites, Virginia Irwin, and Jewell Reese has added a Halloween Carnival Queen in place of the usual dance.

The dance was dropped because the seventh and eighth grades now attend Teays Valley High School. Queen Toby Harkleroad from the sixth grade, and her escort Billy Booth will be crowned with the rest of the court at 9:30.

The other queens, representing each of the six grades are Tamara Wiley, Vicki States, Julie Neal, Pamela Foster and Lynn O'Conner. Each girl will be wearing a long velvet dress and will have an escort from her class.

Kerns-Sabine Marriage Rites Read In Tarlton

Miss Karen Kerns, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Kerns, Route 4 and Mr. Michael Sabine, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sabine, Route 5 were united in marriage Sept. 25th in the Tarlton United Methodist Church. The Rev. Don Cummins officiated the double ring ceremony.

The altar was adorned with two large baskets of white gadiolus and mums flanked with seven branch candelabra. Matching floral arrangements were placed on the altar table. White satin bows marked the pews. Mrs. Dale Fogler, organist and Mrs. Larry Smith, soloist presented a program of musical selections preceding the ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a floor length gown of white taffeta with designs of seed pearls, high rise neckline and bishop sleeves. Two deep pleats at the empire waistline in the back flowed into a chapel length train. A veil of nylon tulle was attached to a crown of lace petals trimmed with seed pearls and the bride carried a cascade bouquet of white sweetheart roses, miniature carnations and stephanotis atop a white Bible.

Mrs. Ted Thompson, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Marlene Thomas and Miss Debbie Kerns, cousins of the bride. They were gowned alike in floor length dresses of pink crepe with crimson velvet sashes. Their colonial bouquets were of red, pink and white carnations.

Miss Darci Thompson, flower girl, niece of the bride, was dressed as the attendants.

Mr. Steven Sabine served his brother as best man. Ushers were Mr. Thomas Skinner and Mr. William Francis.

Mrs. Kerns selected for the wedding of her daughter a knit dress with a rust colored bodice and a rust and gray skirt with black accessories. Her corsage was of yellow carnations.

Mrs. Sabine wore a pink knit dress with a sleeveless cranberry coat and pink accessories.

Pink carnations formed her corsage.

Red, pink and white decorations were used in the social rooms of the church for the reception. A three tiered wedding cake centered the refreshment table and was served with punch to the guests.

Hostesses were Mrs. Gene Thomas and Mrs. Paul Wood, aunts of the bride; Mrs. Max Skinner, Mrs. John Sabine, aunts of the groom and Mrs. Dan Richards, cousin of the groom. Mrs. Theodore Middlestead, an aunt of the groom, presided over the guest register.

For her going-away costume the bride wore a brown and beige crepe dress with brown accessories and a white rosebud corsage. The couple will reside in Circleville.

The new Mrs. Sabine is a graduate of Logan Elm High School and is currently a student at Bliss College, Columbus. Mr. Sabine is also a graduate of Logan Elm High School and is employed by John W. Eshelman and Sons.

Out-of-town guests were from Ashville, Chillicothe, Columbus, Groveport, Laurelville, Lima and Parkersburg, W. Va.

'Quilts And Coverlets' Monday Club Program

Monday Club met Oct. 25 in the meeting room of Pickaway County Historical Society. Mrs. William Cox, president, presided.

Mrs. Bishop Given gave a detailed report of the meeting of the Federation of Women's Clubs held recently in Portsmouth. Representing the club were Mrs. William Cox, Mrs. O. E. Barr, Mrs. William Curtiss and Mrs. Bishop Given.

The evening's program was based on a quotation from an old song, "And 'twas from Aunt Dinah's Quilting Party I was seeng Nellie home." It tied in with the paper presented by Mrs. O. C. West on "Quilts And Coverlets." She was also the moderator explaining the material, design and general appearance of the approximately 25 covers brought by members. The oldest coverlet was woven in 1841 and the oldest quilt dated back to 1810.

Mrs. West began her paper by saying the earliest settlers in New England brought their clothing and household linen with them. In those first hard years there was no cleared land that could be spared for the growing of flax or the raising of sheep.

In 1654 it was ordered that all inhabitants not employed in other useful occupation be required to spin. Lacking the proper tools to weave and spin, the settlers used what was on hand. For instance the lowly teasel, known to us as a weed was very useful to card the wool, in fact it was raised for that purpose. It was grown from seed and required two years before it was a prize crop.

There was a diversification of style and technique in early weaving due to the various nationalities who settled in the new world, but the hand woven coverlet adapted to a new and special use was definitely an American development.

Quilts were the family records of good days, happy days, bad and sad days, a good picture of a past generation. Here were parts of grandmother's wedding dress, sprigged muslin of Aunt Sue or of baby John or Sarah's Christening dress.

The patch work variety is the most familiar of quilts but are definitely varied and have descriptive or symbolic names such as cross and crown, double hearts, falling timber,

MR. AND MRS. JOHN WAYNE RODGERS

Miss Connie Sue Hooks Bride Of John Rodgers

The wedding of Miss Connie Sue Hooks and Mr. John Wayne Rodgers took place 2:30 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 2, in the Williamsport United Methodist Church. The Rev. C. Edward Linville performed the double ring ceremony for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hooks, Route 1, Williamsport and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Rodgers, 327 Walnut St., Circleville.

Vases of miniature white carnations, pompons and shag mums graced the altar flanked with seven brancan candelabra. Mrs. James Mowery, organist, presented a program of nuptial selections preceding the ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She selected for her wedding a floor length gown of white taffeta with an illusion yoke trimmed with chantilly lace featuring a high neckline enhanced with velvet trimming. Wide lace cuffs were on the bishop sleeves and matching lace appliques were scattered on the skirt. Chantilly lace petals edged in pearls, and taffeta loops held the bride's elbow length veil of illusion and she carried a cascade arrangement of white sweetheart roses and pompons interspersed with blue mum.

Maid of honor, Miss Roxanne Hulse, was attired in a pale blue satin floor length gown with an empire waistline and lace trimming. Her headpiece was a brief matching veil.

Bridesmaids were Miss Kay Hooks, sister of the bride and Miss Becky Liston. They were gowned identically to the maid of honor and the attendants carried nosegays of white carnations and blue tipped pompons and shag mums.

Performing the duties of best man was Mr. Mick Riley. Seating the guests were Mr. Max Wagner and Mr. Dick Radcliff.

Mrs. Hooks was attired in a beige bonded lace A-line dress with brown accessories and a corsage of blue tipped white carnations. Mrs. Rodgers wore a lavender crepe dress with black accessories and a white carnation corsage.

A reception in the church annex immediately followed the ceremony. Blue candles decorated the four tiered wedding cake. Hostesses were Miss Judy Lutz, a cousin of the bride; Miss Sally Minor, Miss Nancy Morgan, Miss Brenda Winner and Miss Vicki Dennis.

For her going-away costume the bride wore a purple crushed velvet dress with black accessories and a white carnation corsage. The couple resides at Route 1, Stoutsville.

The new Mrs. Rodgers graduated from Westfall High School and is employed by Nationwide Insurance Company in Columbus. Mr. Rodgers, a graduate of Circleville High School is employed by Barnhill's Dry Cleaning.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were from Washington C.H., Chillicothe, Columbus, New Holland, Clarksburg, Mt. Sterling and Cincinnati.

Columbus DAR Regent Speaks To Local Chapter

Pickaway Plains Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, met recently at the English Lutheran Church in Ashville. Mrs. Joseph Peters, regent, presided during the session. The meeting was opened in ritualistic form with Mrs. R. R. Bales, chaplain, assisting. The Pledge to the Flag of the United States of America was led by Mrs. Daniel Eitel, followed by singing of "The Star Spangled Banner."

Trailmakers Class Hosts Dorcas Class

Trailmakers Class of Calvary United Methodist church hosted members of Dorcas Class Monday evening in the church annex.

Mrs. Manley Carothers welcomed the guests and presided over the meeting.

For devotions Mrs. Roy Osborn read a passage from the Gospel of St. Matthew and a reading entitled "Morning Wish." Both classes repeated the 23rd Psalm.

Mrs. Carothers displayed an old shoe unwrapped from an old newspaper. She presented a reading in which she compared some of the complexities of life to the old battered and worn shoe.

A reception in the church annex immediately followed the ceremony. Blue candles decorated the four tiered wedding cake. Hostesses were Miss Judy Lutz, a cousin of the bride; Miss Sally Minor, Miss Nancy Morgan, Miss Brenda Winner and Miss Vicki Dennis.

For her going-away costume the bride wore a purple crushed velvet dress with black accessories and a white carnation corsage. The couple resides at Route 1, Stoutsville.

The new Mrs. Rodgers graduated from Westfall High School and is employed by Nationwide Insurance Company in Columbus. Mr. Rodgers, a graduate of Circleville High School is employed by Barnhill's Dry Cleaning.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were from Washington C.H., Chillicothe, Columbus, New Holland, Clarksburg, Mt. Sterling and Cincinnati.

with Mrs. Martin Cromley at the piano. Mrs. Richard Hedges read the President General's message.

Mrs. Henry Bartholomew, program chairman, introduced Mrs. H. Kitzmiller, regent of the Columbus chapter and state chairman of National Defense and Mrs. George Hoffman, regent of Delaware chapter and state vice chairman of literature.

Mrs. Kitzmiller told of Congressman Miller, from her district, who starts every day with these questions "What's right with America?" and "What have we to be thankful for? riot, bombings, murders?" We are moving forward, we are making progress. Mrs. Kitzmiller suggested that DAR members write to Congressman Miller to compliment him for his patriotic stand.

As Americans we have no need to have an inferiority complex, Mrs. Kitzmiller said. Haven't we given generously of our resources and manpower? We should teach our children by setting an example to love America, to obey its laws and to respect one another. Obedience to our laws is one of the best ways to show our patriotism. Without rules there would be anarchy. A Cuban refugee upon reaching America knelt and kissed the soil. Mrs. Kitzmiller wondered how many of us would have done the same.

We should pray for those who are held as slaves by Communist countries. Christianity must continue to survive. America is a nation that believes in fairness to the many nationalities in her midst, to all religions and races. We cannot ignore the Communists. They won't go away. The first ten amendments to the Constitution act as a restraint to Communism.

Unicef, an agency that was created by the United Nations in 1946 is not the organization we supposed it to be. When Unicef cards arrive send them back to the agency from which they came. Innocent looking and lovely though they be, the money from our pockets finds its way to the hands of the Communists. This money doesn't feed the hungry, clothe the naked or cure the ills of the non-Communist children of the world as it was set up to do.

Many of our American children are wearing what they believe to be a peace symbol. The upside down cross of the dove's foot, so called, is a non-Christian symbol. We should not be compromising. DAR's never have been.

Know the causes you support. Young people are the chief targets of the Communists. Youth is idealistic and some are easily influenced. Seek the institutions of higher learning that support the American Constitution. Know your teachers in your classrooms, in your schools, the principals, the Parent Teacher Association, the children's books and the school board.

The president general of DAR gives us this motto "We must look to the future for youth since where there is no vision the people perish."

Mrs. George Hoffman, state vice chairman of literature, asks that we give money to buy good books and magazines to be placed in libraries of veteran's institutions.

The regent reported that Miss Amanda Thomas wishes the DAR chapters to contribute additional funds to Crossnor School. They need trading stamps and coupons.

An invitation from the Franklin Chapter DAR to Pickaway Plains Chapter for the dedication of a memorial tablet at the grave of Mrs. James Patton was read by Mrs. Paul Cromley. A reception will follow the services at Pickaway County Museum meeting room. DAR members and friends are invited to attend.

Some Cleaning Bill

BALTIMORE (AP) — Burglars all but cleaned out an East Baltimore firm of 32 industrial vacuum cleaners worth $6,400.

John V. Michael, vice president of the firm, figures the thieves won't go house-to-house peddling.

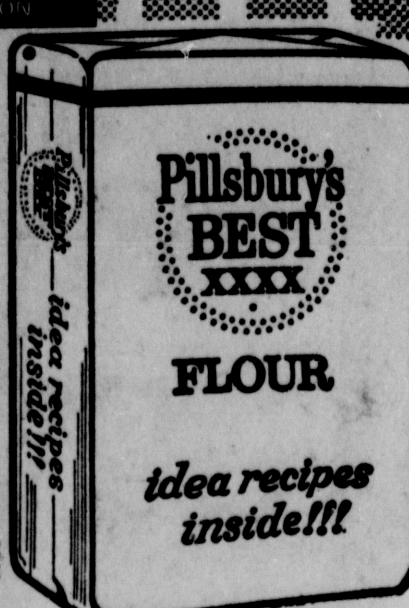

"Those vacuum cleaners would pick a rug up off the floor," Michael said.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

Proposed Move Worries Newlywed

DEAR ABBY: I have recently married a kind, considerate and generous man, who took on a divorced 40-year-old woman, plus her three rambunctious teenagers and a cat.

He wants to move us out of our present home into a larger, more pretentious one. I would like to stay put for another four years, until my youngest is out of high school. My children have changed schools many times in their lives, and now they are happy, and I don't want them to have to adjust to another change. I believe the teen years are the most difficult when it comes to breaking into a new circle of friends.

My home is pleasant and adequate, and in an entirely acceptable neighborhood, but my husband would like something a little less modest. I want desperately to make this wonderful man happy, but at the moment I am torn with indecision about where my first obligation lies. Please tell me what you think.

TORN
DEAR TORN: You seem to be a very unselfish, sensitive and thoughtful woman. Tell your husband why you prefer to "stay put" rather than move into a more pretentious home. If he's as kind, considerate and generous as you say he is, he will respect you for your attitude, and defer willingly.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 71-year-old widow. I live alone in a little home which I own and I am afraid to be here alone at night.

Do you think I'd be the talk of the town if I let a man sleep in my basement? The man I have in mind is clean and respectable. He's a little retarded. Can't read or write, but he is honest. (He's done some odd jobs for me over the years.) I have asked a few of my good friends, and they said, "Sure, why not?"

MRS. I.J.
DEAR MRS. J.: Sure, why not, indeed!

DEAR ABBY: I don't know whom to believe. My teenage daughter tells me that her friends have complained to her about the way her father acts towards them. Father is 40, good-looking and very lively. I mentioned this to him and he said those girls have misinterpreted his actions—that he is just trying to have a little fun, teasing them.

He tickles them in the ribs and sneaks up behind them and puts his hands around their shoulders or their waists.

Your suggestions are most welcome in this misunderstanding.

MOTHER
DEAR MOTHER: Tell father that if he will keep his hands to himself there will be no chance of a "misinterpretation," misunderstanding or whatever.

DEAR ABBY: After being officially engaged for five months, I realize that it would be a big mistake to marry Harry. I feel bad about having to break our engagement after all the parties and gifts given in our honor, but there is no other way.

I have already figured out what to say to him, my family and friends, but what do I do with the engagement ring? Should I pay him the $300 and keep it? (I don't really want it.) He still has the wedding ring which is part of the set and half a set won't do either

Athens Bank, Annex Burn; Other Stores Also Damaged

ATHENS, Ohio (AP)—A fire of undetermined origin destroyed the downtown Athens National Bank and an adjoining annex Tuesday night.

There was no firm estimate of damage, but officials said it would be in the hundreds of thousands of dollars.

President B.T. Grover Jr. said there was no loss of bank records, since duplicates had been sent to the bank's computer in Cincinnati, and all funds and papers in the vault and safety deposit boxes were secure.

Fire officials said the blaze erupted in a rear corner of the bank basement. Located in the area, they said, were an employees' lunchroom and three gas-fed boilers.

First firemen arriving on the scene attempted to reach the source but were hampered by dense smoke.

Flames raced through the 50-year-old structure and soon had engulfed the entire building and were leaping to the annex. Both buildings were gutted and the roof of the annex caved in.

Destroyed, in addition to the bank facilities, were several shops and offices. A number of nearby stores and offices were damaged by flames, smoke and water.

Firemen from Athens and seven other area departments one of us any good.

Please hurry your answer as I want to settle this soon.

RING TROUBLE
DEAR RING: Give the engagement ring back to him. What he does with it after that is his problem.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

fought the fire for more than six hours.

Two firemen were overcome by smoke, but returned to their duties following treatment.

Heavy Snow Hits West, Northwest

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A blast of wintry weather hit the Northwest today while showers and thunderstorms spread from the Southern Plains to the upper Great Lakes.

The National Weather Service issued heavy snow warnings for mountain regions in Montana, northwest Wyoming, northern Utah and eastern Nevada. Travelers' warnings were posted for the western Dakotas and Montana.

Rain, snow and hail pelted the Pacific Northwest and rain doused northern Utah and Wyoming.

More than eight inches of snow blanketed Browning, Mont., early today and temperatures tumbled to the 20s and low 30s.

There were no injuries.

So dense was the smoke that firemen exhausted their supply of oxygen and had to go to a local machine shop to have tanks refilled.

The scene, at Court and Washington streets, across from the Athens County Court House, attracted an estimated 5,000 spectators who were held back by ropes strung by police. Police stationed guards outside the building overnight.

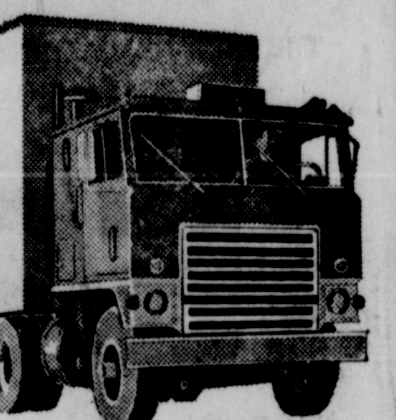

Grover, who learned of the fire as he drove into Athens on returning from an out-of-town trip, said the bank would begin making plans immediately for replacing the building. He said the bank, largest in Athens, would have all of its six branches open for business today and that the 40 employees of the main office would be distributed among the branches to help with their anticipated increased work load.

Horoscope Forecast

By Carroll Richter

THURSDAY'S HOROSCOPE

GENERAL TENDENCIES:

This is your day to follow the straight and narrow and to do nothing to which anyone else could take exception. Adverse aspects are in effect in the first place, and added to this Mars comes along with vibrations that may stir up contention and disagreements that could result in real trouble. Maintain a smile and be cool to offset this.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Let your conversations with others be short today or you could get into some unfortunate arguments with them. Social life is not very good, but if you must accept invitations, smile politely and say little.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Taking any risks where your reputation is concerned could lead to dire results now, so be sure to tread the straight and narrow. Higher-ups are under pressure and want someone on whom to vent fire. Take care it is not you.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Going off to new outlets and activities is not wise today, so stick to the tried and true instead. You could get into entanglements you would regret later. Show mate your devotion tonight.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Don't try to get out of paying obligations that are right and have to be paid some time. Improve your credit. Do not permit some action on the part of mate to throw you off kilter. Smile and then correct later.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Don't try to wangle out of some contract you have made with another, since this would only lead to trouble. Some pressures of a public nature will ease if you do nothing about them now. Keep your cool.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Keep up your end of a work deal and make sure to cooperate with a fellow worker more. Derive the benefits later of such action. Take it easy tonight and restore your energies. Read some.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Make sure you do not get into any kind of amusement where there could be much risk of any sort. Do not pick a quarrel with your mate, or you get into real hot water now. Show that you are a considerate person.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You have to use self-control now if you are to avoid an argument that could develop from the slightest mean word. Get busy removing whatever is causing trouble at home. A little firmness helps a lot.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Particular care in driving is vital now to avoid some kind of strange accident. A soft word can avoid a big argument. If you are spending money foolishly, curb this habit.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You think that if you spend much money you will make more money, but this is foolhardy if you cannot afford it. Set up a new budget for yourself and allow a leeway for possible and unavoidable emergencies. Buy a present for mate.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) If you try to force your will on others this can be a most unhappy day and p.m. Try to support others wherever possible. Social activities are not good for the time being so postpone them.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) You have a feeling of limitation that is best dispensed with by solving your problems wisely and objectively. Show you are a true humanitarian and all works much better for you. Avoid extravagance.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those delightful young people who is a born trouble-shooter, but teach early not to start trouble just to show the ability of solving problems created. Teach the importance of being prepared to handle problems through right education physical fitness. Take into your confidence when you as parents have problems and permit to express self. This will be a good experience for the future. Treat kindly.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

Winnie Ruth Judd Parole Eyed By Arizona, California

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — The life sentence of 1930s trunk murderess Winnie Ruth Judd has been commuted to time served in prison.

A final decision on parole stemming from Gov. Jack Williams' commutation action Tuesday rests with the state Board of Pardons and Paroles. The board had decided by a 2-1 vote Feb. 23 that Mrs. Judd's sentence should be commuted. The board member who voted against commutation, Walter S. Michael of Phoenix, said Tuesday night he now has changed his mind after talking with the governor several times.

Since Mrs. Judd has indicated she wants to rejoin a San Francisco family with whom she was living until her capture and return to Arizona in 1969, an agreement on parole board supervision between the two states would have to be reached, according to board Chairman Keith E. Edwards. "It's a cinch we couldn't parole her one day and she would be out the next day," Edwards said. "It would depend upon how fast they (California authorities) operate. Routinely it takes a little while."

Mrs. Judd, 66, was convicted in 1932 of the shooting death of Agnes Anne LeRoi on Oct. 17, 1931.

Mrs. Judd was not tried for the murder of Hedvig Samuelson. His dismembered, nude body was found in one blood-soaked trunk and Mrs. LeRoi's in another at a Los Angeles railroad station where they were shipped by Mrs. Judd.

On Feb. 24, 1932, Mrs. Judd was sentenced to death after a sensational trial.

Shortly before Mrs. Judd was to be hanged a sanity hearing indicated she was mentally incompetent and in April 1933 she was committed to the Arizona State Hospital in Phoenix.

Years later, Gov. Howard Pyle commuted her death sentence to life imprisonment, with no possibility of parole. During her many years at the state mental hospital, Mrs.

Man Arrested In Truck Theft

CINCINNATI (AP)—Federal authorities have charged 23-year-old Robert Hyde Jr. of nearby Oxford with possession of a $30,000 tractor-trailer stolen from Chattanooga, Tenn.

Norbert Nadel Jr., first assistant U.S. attorney here, said Tuesday that Hyde was in possession of the tractor-trailer, stolen while en route to California, when arrested in nearby Hamilton on Monday.

The trailer contained $40,000 worth of carpeting which has not been recovered, Nadel said.

Judd escaped seven times. The latest disappearance was Oct. 8, 1962. She stayed hidden until June 1969 when she was discovered working as a domestic for a San Francisco family.

Mrs. Judd was returned to Arizona and placed in the Arizona State Prison after she was ruled sane at a second sanity hearing.

Hansan Talks On Nursing Home Action

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—State Welfare Director John Hansan said today his department was forced to cut off Medicaid funds to nursing homes that failed to meet federal health and safety requirements.

Hansan told the Cleveland chapter of the Seniors of Ohio the nine nursing homes de-cert-tified last week ignored repeated warnings about long-standing violations of the federal Life Safety Code.

The welfare department announced last week it had notified nine nursing homes it no longer would make vendor payments for nursing care for welfare recipients.

Similar action is under way against another 11 nursing homes.

The Ohio Nursing Home Association has scheduled a meeting in Columbus Friday and Saturday to discuss the de-certifications.

Director Gary Shepherd said Tuesday he was concerned that the homes were not given a hearing by the state.

Pickaway Grange

SALTCREEK VALLEY GRANGE

Shorts, slacks, overalls, avrons, were the mode of dress when Saltcreek Valley Grange met Tuesday in a "Come as you read the invitation" meeting.

Worthy master Francis Fraunfelter conducted the business meeting. Twenty members and 4 guests were present. Demits were granted to Mr. and Mrs. Gail Heffner. Cards of Thanks for flowers were read from Mrs. Eloise Dunkle, Clarence Maxson and Robert Delong who are recovering from surgery.

Saltcreek Valley Grange will serve the dinner at the next Pomona meeting to be held Nov. 6 at the 4-H and Grange Hall.

The Grange voted to give a donation to the youth team for installing officers at Washington Grange on October 12.

Deputy Master Paul Dunkle gave a report on the State Grange meeting in Toledo. He also announced that a few seats were still available on the chartered bus to the National Grange meeting at Charleston, W. Va., Nov. 8-16. We are proud to announce that our Worthy Deputy won fourth place in the art exhibit at the Pumpkin Show.

A get well card was signed by all present to send to Mrs. Eloise Dunkle.

The theme "As You Are, As You Were" was used by the Lecturer Paul Dunkle for the literary program. Members and guests answered roll-call by reading a verse of advice and telling what they were doing when they read the "come as you are" card.

Also on the program were: poem, "Autumn Fun" by Don Minor; piano solo, "Somewhere My Love," by Joyce Delong; reading, "Halloween Helpers," by Cindy Minor. A contest on "Name the Cereals at Big Bear Store," was won by Grace Anderson.

Everyone was stumped by a contest on restaurant conversation. The program closed by everyone singing "Punky Pumpkin" and the Lecturer reading "The guy in the glass."

Refreshments of ginger bread and cider were served by Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Spung.

The next meeting will be held 7:30 Nov. 2. Members are to bring favorite coffee cup for program and favorite cookie for refreshments.

Entire Little Miami River Scenic Area

LEBANON, Ohio (AP) — The entire 105-mile Little Miami River, which runs from Clark County to the Ohio River, has been included in Ohio's scenic river system.

Richard Moseley, coordinator of natural areas and scenic rivers for the Ohio Department of Natural Resources in Columbus, said Tuesday that department director William Nye officially designated the last 12 miles of the river as part of the system.

That made the Little Miami Ohio's first complete scenic river.

The first 93 miles of the river, from near Springfield to suburban Loveland were included in the state program in 1969.

Little Miami, Inc., a Lebanon-based organization dedicated to preservation of the river, has worked since 1967 to have the entire river, including the last 12 miles from Loveland to the Ohio River, included.

Ray Culter, director of Little Miami, Inc., said that Tuesday's decision by Nye means "we have a good portion of our overall goal well on its way to being accomplished. However, there still remain a lot of jobs to be done."

He said the organization will continue to work toward having the river made part of the National Wild and Scenic River System.

Culter also said, "We will continue to be the watchdog of the Little Miami until such time as the state or federal government has more control over the river. This can be accomplished through a combination of in-fee purchases or scenic easements."

He said the group will still fight to keep the river free of litter and pollution, and its banks free of "blighted summer cottages."

Unclaimed PS Art To Be Discarded

Unclaimed entries from the Pumpkin Show art contest will be held at the YMCA for one month. After that time, they will be discarded.

Quint Dies In Israel

JERUSALEM (AP) — The smallest of Israel's first quintuplets, a boy, died today four days after birth, a spokesman at Hadassah Hospital announced.

The other boy and three girls were reported in satisfactory condition.

The spokesman said he could not give the cause of death yet, but the infant had been having breathing difficulties since Tuesday morning and his condition deteriorated steadily.

"It may have been because he was too small," the spokesman added. The baby weighed only 24.7 ounces at birth.

Meanwhile, a respiratory problem of one of the girls has cleared, the spokesman said.

Mrs. Yitzhak Berman, 22, who gave birth to the three girls and two boys, was doing well, he added.

Meet The Mustangs

Walter Garland (77) and Tom Williams (86) are sophomore members of the Westfall High School football team. Garland is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter B. Garland, Route 2, Orient, and Williams is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas R. Williams, Route 3, Mt. Sterling.

County Schools In League Play

Teays Valley will travel to Orlentangy, Westfall will be on the road at Paint Valley and Logan Elm will host East Clinton in county action this week.

The Vikings will be out to improve their 2-5 record at the expense of the Braves, who are sporting a 1-6 mark.

"We did everything but score against Dublin," Viking Coach Dick Kidwell stated, "and seem to come up with our better efforts against the tougher teams."

Despite its poor record Orlentangy is an improving club and gave a good performance last week against Hamilton Township.

Richards Sets New CC Mark; Tigers Lose

Steve Richards set a new Circleville cross country record but the Tigers dropped their first meet of the season to Lancaster, 36-23, Tuesday on the Red and Black course.

Richards, a blond whirlwind, toured the course in 9:35.5 to capture first place in a meet that saw the first five places finish under 10 minutes.

Nungesser of Lancaster was second with 9:44, N. Bush of Lancaster third in 9:45, Circleville's Jeff Robbins fourth with 9:48 and L. Bush of Lancaster fifth with 9:56.5.

Other Tiger places were: Matt McGowan, ninth (10:12); Glen Gillespie, 10th (10:20); Joe McGowan, 12th (10:27); Pete McDaniell, 13th (10:36); Paul Cupp, 14th (10:37); R. N. Phillips, 19th (11:24); Mark Hankins, 22nd (12:08); Tom Spring, 24th (12:55).

DICK Liston was ill and was unable to compete for the Tigers.

Circleville is now 14-1 for the season and will run in the district meet Saturday at Raymond Memorial.

Grid Wins By Nebraska, Oklahoma Seen

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The top two teams in the country—Nebraska and Oklahoma—take on the No. 3 and 4 teams in the Big Eight—Colorado and Iowa State—this weekend. And since Nebraska and Oklahoma also happen to be No. 1 and 2 in the Big Eight, there should be some fur flying around the Midlands.

There's a Southeastern Conference doubleheader on tap at Jackson, Miss., with Louisiana State facing revenge-bent Mississippi in the afternoon and Alabama tangling with Mississippi at night. Another SEC attraction pairs two of the nation's more publicized quarterbacks—Florida's John Reeves and Auburn's Pat Sullivan.

Penn State visits West Virginia in the East, with the winner likely to come away with the Lambert Trophy. Air Force and Arizona State clash in a battle between members of The Associated Press Second Ten. And Toledo, with 30 consecutive victories stashed away, tries to equal the longest winning streak of modern times against Miami of Ohio.

Colorado at Nebraska—Buffs have beaten LSU and Ohio State on the road and lost to Oklahoma. Cornhuskers' Bob Devaney says his boys aren't looking ahead to Oklahoma on Thanksgiving Day. They better not. NEBRASKA.

Iowa State at Oklahoma—Overlooked Cyclones are 5-1 and the surprise team of the Big Eight. Call Oklahoma's offense a cyclone, tornado, or what-have-you, OKLAHOMA.

Louisiana State vs. Mississippi at Jackson—All signs point to an upset. LSU could be looking ahead to Alabama and Ole Miss won't soon forget last year's 61-17 mauling. But the Rebels have already lost to SEC powers Alabama and Georgia and the Bayou Bengals are right up there, LSU.

Alabama vs. Mississippi State at Jackson—Bear Bryant needs one more victory to tie Jess Neely for fourth place on the all-time coaching list and become 'Bama's winningest coach ever. Does he want it? "I just want one more victory for old Alabama and for the team to go on to win the national championship, that's what I want." Okay, Bear. ALABAMA.

Florida at Auburn—Gators could be the SEC spoilers with Auburn followed by Georgia. And they'd like nothing better than to get even for last year's 63-14 battering. With footballs filling the Alabama air... AUBURN.

Penn State at West Virginia—Nittany Lions smell the roses. Well, maybe not roses, but certainly orange, sugar or cotton. Mountaineers will be without super soph Kerry Marbury. PENN STATE.

Air Force at Arizona State—First meeting ever and it should be a dilly. Arizona's Dan White riddled New Mexico for six touchdowns passes last week... and the Sun Devils are supposed to be a running team. ARIZONA STATE.

Toledo at Miami of Ohio—Miami leads the series 14-4 but Toledo has won the last two from the Redskins and the last 30 against all comers. The last two years, though, the scores have been 14-10 and 14-13 so an upset isn't impossible. Resisting the temptation to make this the Upset Special of the Week... TOLEDO.

Georgia at South Carolina—Bulldogs won last year 52-34.

Some of the walking wounded return this week as they take a break from SEC action... as if any help were needed. GEORGIA.

Ohio State at Minnesota—Beavers of Minnesota when November rolls around. Saturday, however, is still October. OHIO STATE.

Stanford at Oregon State—Beavers have gone lose-win-lose-win-lose-win-lose. You know what that means? Nothing. STANFORD.

Florida State at Houston—An FSU player tripped Houston's Nick Holm from the sidelines in last year's game. Now it's the Cougars turn to do the tripping. HOUSTON.

Southern California at California—Despite last week's triumph over Notre Dame, Trojans bring up the rear of the Pac-8. Bears, on probation, aren't in the race at all but have beaten three straight Pac-8 opponents. SOUTHERN CAL.

John Bledsoe Out Of Buckeye Lineup
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The 10th-ranked Ohio State Buckeyes will have to do without the services of starting fullback John Bledsoe the rest of the football season.

Meet The Vikings

Terry Althaus (24) and Lance Henson (31) are sophomore members of the Teays Valley High School football team. Althaus is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Althaus, Route 2, Ashville, and Henson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Henson, Route 1, Ashville.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — "He doesn't look as old as he is," said Central State football Coach Jim Walker, trying to hide the age of his college quarterback, Steve "Pops" McPherson.

McPherson, 31 years old and just a freshman, is 13 years separated from his high school playing days at Dayton Roosevelt. And it had been nine seasons since he played service ball.

Yet the 5-foot-10, 185-pounder came off the bench last week, rifled three touchdown passes in 12 minutes to spark the Marauders to a 25-0 homecoming victory over West Virginia State.

"He was a little sensitive about his age when he came to us," said Walker, whose team is 2-3 going into a game at Hillsdale, Mich., Saturday. "I assured him that pro quarterbacks don't mature until they're around 30 or 31. I think he felt better," Walker continued.

Vida Blue Wins Cy Young Award; Eyes New Contract

OAKLAND (AP) — "The way I look at this year is that it helped prepare me for next season," said Vida Blue, the American League's Cy Young Award winner.

The 22-year-old left-hander, in his first major league baseball season, had a 24-8 record, eight shutouts and a 1.82 earned-run average as he pitched the Oakland Athletics to the Western Division title.

He is the youngest player ever to win the award and is considered a strong contender for the league's Most Valuable Player Award, to be made next month.

"I'll never get that one. They can't give me everything," Blue said Tuesday after the Baseball Writers Association of America named him the league's best pitcher.

He was surprised at the outcome of the Cy Young Award voting, saying, "I really thought Mickey Lolich would win it, but I'm glad I did."

Lolich of the Detroit Tigers was runner-up in the voting and Wilbur Wood of the Chicago White Sox finished third. Blue got 14 of the 24 first-place votes, Lolich nine and Wood one.

Lolich and Wood, also southpaws, finished the season strong while Blue was tailing off from a sizzling start that made him baseball's biggest drawing card. Lolich finished 25-14 and Wood was 22-13.

"The last part of the season I was just pooped," Blue said. "But it wasn't my arm. It was all that pressure from the publicity. I just couldn't take it mentally."

Blue, a handsome bachelor signed with the A's after a great high school athletic career at Mansfield, La.

He got some national attention last year with a no-hitter against the Minnesota Twins in a late-season stay with the A's. But he took baseball fans largely by surprise this year, and more than a million paid to see him pitch.

"I guess a lot of people came out to see if I was for real," said Blue.

He won 19 games before his 22nd birthday on July 28. Two 1-0 losses and a game in which he pitched 11 shutout innings, and left with the score 0-0, later helped ruin his chance to win 30 games.

He's spending most of the off-season at his mother's home in Mansfield. A trip to the West Coast this week included a meeting with the attorney who will advise him when he negotiates his 1972 contract.

"That's what I'm waiting for," said Blue, who received a reported $13,000 this year, plus a new car that owner Charles O. Finley presented him.

President Nixon, two days after announcing his wage-price freeze, met with the A's at the White House and called Blue "the most underpaid player in baseball."

McPherson is unhappy with his season's statistics: 14 of 32 passes for 138 yards and three touchdowns and 13 rushes for minus 17 yard.

"I have been disappointed with my passing," he said. "It's just me. I've got to set up quicker and spot my receivers. I stayed in the pocket better last week though."

McPherson has gone from a four-year Marine stint to a factory stockman to volunteer high school coach to Central State.

"After I was laid off as a stockman, I helped coach Patterson (at Dayton high school). I got the urge to go to school then and be a coach," said McPherson.

Around Ohio: If Miami loses to Toledo Saturday, it will mark the first time since 1949 the Redskins have dropped three games in a row. The 1949 coach? Woody Hayes.

Ohio University mentor Bill Hess, dean of Mid-American coaches, has climbed into the top 25 among active major college bosses in winning percentage. Hess has a 78-52-3 mark for a .600 percentage in 13½ seasons.

Frank Lautner, who left the nation's longest winning streak at Toledo this season for Iowa, where his team is winless, said:

"It's part of this business and all part of being a man...Good things don't come easy except in picture books."

Larry Ratcliff, Eastern Michigan tailback from Akron, is the first back in the country to top 1,000 rushing yards this season. The 198-pound senior, who holds all of the Hurons rushing marks, has 1,167 yards in 1971.

Steubenville, playing its second season of club football has an 0-7 record with three games remaining. The team, strictly run and financed by students, is coached by former University of Pittsburgh tackle Howard Linn.

"I think the ratings are doing the job we want done," said the commissioner.

"It's not feasible to set up state playoffs by regions without ratings," Meyer said. "We can't go through the long process of elimination games."

Meyer, an advocate of football playoffs since he succeeded Paul Landis in 1969, hasn't changed his mind.

"It's foolish to establish state champions in all sports but football," he said.

A Columbus firm rates more than 800 Ohio teams regionally by classes each week. There are four regions each in Class AAA, AA and A. The ratings are based on toughness of a team's schedule and those of its opponents.

"Many schools voted against them before because they didn't have the whole picture. They didn't know what region they would be in and how the ratings would work. That was our fault," said Meyer.

TIPS FOR THE ANGLERS ...

PIN A FEW SAFETY PINS TO YOUR FISHING CLOTHES BEFORE STARTING OUT TO FISH. THEY WILL BE HANDY FOR REMOVING VARNISH FROM THE EYE OF FLY, OR UNTYING KNOTS.

TAKE ALONG A SMALL BOTTLE OF AROMATIC SPIRITS OF AMMONIA. RUB SOME OF THE SOLUTION ON A STING OR BITE. IT WILL NEUTRALIZE THE ACID, STOP THE ITCHING, AND WILL REDUCE SOME OF THE SWELLING.

KINKS IN LEADERS CAN BE STRAIGHTENED OUT WITH THE HELP OF A PIECE OF AN OLD INNER TUBE. BE SURE THAT THE LEADER IS DRY, THEN DRAW THE LEADER THROUGH TIGHTLY-FOLDED RUBBER.

A USEFUL ACCESSORY TO HAVE IN YOUR KIT IS A STOUT LINE PINCH ON SPLIT SHOT AT EVERY 12 INCHES. WITH A DIPSEY SINKER TIED TO ONE END, THIS IS A GOOD DEPTH GAUGE.

Peking's Entry Into U.N. Forms Power Triangle

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y.
(AP) — Up to now, if the Americans and Russians could agree, there was always some hope that the United Nations in any given crisis might be able to function effectively as a peace organization.

Mainland China's entry creates a new situation reflecting the realities of the global power triangle.

The new occupant of China's General Assembly chair—and of the permanent Security Council seat allotted by the charter—will oppose the United States on many if not most issues and probably will be just as hostile to the other superpower, the Soviet Union.

Peking commands a big and growing prestige, not only as one of five members of the Nuclear Weapons Club but because China is home for a quarter of the world's people.

The Peking delegation can attract much support from members from Africa, Asia and Latin America and even some from Eastern Europe, depending upon issues involved. Peking stands between the superpowers, able to have a go at tipping the scales in one direction or another or, failing that, to use a veto with paralyzing effect. The Soviet veto had been the only one anybody worried about in the past, and the Russians have used it sparingly in recent years. Now there are two vetoes to worry about.

Chiang Kai-shek's regime ruled an island of 14 million people and relied on the United States for its independent existence. It was unlikely to oppose the Americans on any critical issue before the council.

But the mainland regime rules 800 million people and is beholden neither to the United States nor the Soviet Union. The superpowers, if they manage to agree on important issues, will have to win the consent of a government which feels it owes nothing to either and, in fact, is the bitter rival of both for political influence.

War Room Hit By Explosion

LISBON (AP) — An explosion early today damaged a headquarters of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization eight miles west of Lisbon, the U.S. Embassy announced.

A spokesman said the cause of the explosion in the war room of IBERLANT—the Iberian Atlantic Command—had not been determined.

It occurred at 3:10 a.m. Unconfirmed reports said windows, doors and masonry were damaged.

"If elected, I pledge to establish realistic priorities for our service department that are within the city's financial capabilities. An improvement program centered around through streets carrying the heavy traffic. Alleys and secondary streets maintained with existing equipment. An immediate reduction in the cost of directive personnel. A program to benefit all of Circleville."

ments might come to cut the $141 million in the aid bill to U.N.-related programs.

—Sens. Church, Gale McGee, D-Wyo., Alan Cranston, D-Calif., Robert Taft Jr., R-Ohio, Clifford P. Case, R-N.J., opposed any move to cut back U.S. contributions.

"While all Americans should deeply resent explosion of the Republic of China," Taft said in a New York speech, "and while it is likely to endanger the future of the United Nations, it should not trigger regressive actions against U.S. interests."

—Several Democrats, including Thomas F. Eagleton of Missouri, Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota and Adlai E. Stevenson III of Illinois, said Nixon's initiatives towards Peking assured the Monday result.

—Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield and Republican Leader Hugh Scott said they have long favored a reduction in U.S. financial support of the United Nations—but that their position had nothing to do with the U.N. vote.

Secretary of State William P. Rogers put the administration on both sides of the street Tuesday when he said each factor is part of official U.S. thinking.

He first told a news conference "We will not support a reduction of funds for the United Nations in retaliation for this vote."

To do so, he said, would be to reject the democratic process "and we in the United States are accustomed to being bound by a majority vote."

But in his next sentence Rogers said to reporters: "The other problem, though, the reated problem of whether the United Nations is spending too much money or not, is living beyond its resources, is a very difficult question, which we will have to address."

"And I think that my own view is that it has spent too much money in the past. And we have probably contributed more than our share."
